

THE MILLBROOK SOCIETY presents THE CIVIL WAR SERIES "Hatboro and our region during the Civil War years"

Program Two: War on the Homefront: impact and innovations.

MONDAY, JUNE 26TH, 7:30-9 P.M. ALL ARE WELCOME!

Hatboro Baptist Church ANNEX, 50 N. York Road (in strip center adjacent to the Church).

In our second program, local historian and reenactor, Michael Jesberger, will bring us to two fronts during the war: the role and contributions of the woman of our region; and, life at Camp William Penn in Cheltenham, PA.

While families sent their the sons, fathers, husbands, and brothers to the war, ladies were also active participants! Our women played prominent roles in creating and maintaining "aid societies" that included medical service, sewing clothing, making bandages and packing food and other needs. Hear more about what it was like for women (and children) behind the lines during the American War.

Camp William Penn was located in the La Mott section of Cheltenham, and was the training ground for Civil War African-American soldiers. Join us in hearing the story of that historic camp in our region, and how the local community interacted.

FREE of charge (free-will donations are appreciated). Questions: please contact us at millbrooksociety@gmail.com, 215-957-1877 (mail box) or Ralph Ciaudelli (rmciaudelli@verizon.net). Follow the Society's website millbrooksociety.org and Facebook for dates, times and activities (which are subject to change).

SAVE THE DATE: AUGUST 19th The Civil War comes to life in Hatboro! Living history Civil War encampment.
